

Buckle Up Key Holder

Losing your car keys can be extremely frustrating; therefore it makes sense to keep them in a place where you know they're always safe.

Well, what can be safer than buckling them up?

These wall mounted key holders are produced from discontinued and reconditioned car seat belt buckles. Destined for landfill, these highly engineered safety components are rescued and transformed into an innovative solution to misplacing ones keys.

Simply plug the key fob on your keys into the buckle to clip into place, and press the buckle's button to release. Over time, plugging in your keys becomes as much of a habit as putting on your seatbelt.

The perfect eco gift for anyone who's constantly losing their keys.
